

Tintswalo Atlantic - by Liana Reiners

(01/12/2011)

The Tintswalo Atlantic lodge is situated in one of the most stunning locations in Southern Africa. Positioned at the base of Chapman's Peak, it overlooks the quaint fishing village of Hout Bay. Nestled between the boulders of the Atlantic Ocean's water's edge and the slopes of the Cape Mountain Fynbos Reserve, it offers absolute seclusion and relaxation, with the ocean literally a stone's throw away from the pebbled beach.

Each of Tintswalo Atlantic's ten suites is authentically decorated to emulate the experiences and colours of various well-known islands of the world such as Robben Island and the more exotic Antigua Island. Each room has its own unique view of the ocean and the majestic Sentinel across the bay.

Dining at Tintswalo Atlantic is a personal affair. The kitchen is open to the dining room and guests can have a seat at the counter and view the action of the chefs while having a sip of wine or even getting some cooking tips.

Stylish yet understated, Tintswalo Atlantic offers home-away-from-home comforts, discreet service and mouth-watering culinary creations in the most beautiful setting.

It is most definitely worth a visit and is highly recommended by the Wheels news team.
